2	1877 to 1901	Bishop John Moore	 1. Bishop Moore, a native of Ireland, came to the United States as a youth and located in Charleston, S. C. and he entered the seminary there. He was sent to France and Italy to complete his studies for the Priesthood. He was ordained in Rome in 1860, served in Charleston, and was consecrated second Bishop of St. Augustine May 13, 1877, in Charleston. He died on July 30, 1901. 2. When [John Moore] became Bishop of St. Augustine in 1877, there were only 13 priests in the diocese. He introduced Jesuits and Benedictines to Florida parishes and brought in Irish priests to staff the missions. His work opened up the Church in central Florida with purchases of land for parishes in Sanford and Orlando. During his administration, he lost three priests to yellow fever in Tampa, including Orlando's first appointed pastor, Father Swemburgh [sic] who had come in 1885. When the cathedral in St. Augustine was gutted by fire, he not only was successful in getting aid from businessmen, but also went on a begging tour in the North for financial aid to rebuild.	1. 3	1880 circa	Mission in Enterprise	Local Enterprise historian, Post Master Riley Nutt responded: "there was a building in Enterprise built around 1880 used by a Catholic group - more like a Chapel - [that] served the Catholic visitors to the Brock House Hotel.... They shared a Pastor with another small church of similar size in Sanford.... The church disbanded around 1910.... The building itself was converted to a house and remains standing today at the south west corner of Clark and Pine Street in Enterprise." 6	1882	Sanford Mission Fr. Felix Swembergh Doyle's Hall or Doyle's Livery Stable Sanford in 1882	1. One of the central Florida's oldest Catholic communities dates back to 1882. The first church was built there in 1888* by the first missionary of the Diocese of St. Augustine in the area, Father Felix Prosper Swembergh. Before that, Father Swembergh held Mass at Doyle's livery stable. *NOTE: Cornerstone for church placed on July 4, 1887. SEE NOTE: Mass was celebrated at Doyle's Hall. SEE Entry #7; Sources 2.6, 2.7, and 2.9. 2. First reference to "livery stable" found thus far is a survey from Michael Gannon probably completed by All Souls staff with notes and signature of Herschel C. Conner, Jr., dated June 14, 1965 (SEE Source 114.5.2 question 12). However, it was corrected in the final version to say "Doyle's Hall" (SEE Source 114.1.2) probably based on a report by Herschel C. Conner, Jr. (SEE Source 114.4.1). 3. In 1926, the Sanford Today magazine ran a series based on the "absorbingly interesting conversations about the Sanford of forty-and-odd years ago" as related by First National Bank president Frank P. Forster and as seen in "rare and faded photographs lent by him." Published Aug. 28, Sept. 4 and Sept. 11, 1926, the series provides a glimpse of what Sanford was like for the Catholics who lived here and missionary priests celebrated the sacraments.	1. 7	Before 1887 Sep 22	Doyle's Hall Doyle's Stores Everglade Hotel Lake Monroe House Michael J. Doyle	1. Historical Records Survey Church Inventory completed in 1939 under the auspices of the WPA indicates that the first Catholic services were conducted at Doyle's Hall located at the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue and references a parish history 1882-1932 by Mrs. Hurt in the hands of Mrs. Wight. *NOTE: Location of the history is not known.     2. M. J. Doyle purchased several parcels of land in that area between July 1880 and August 1882. 			3. The Catholic Presence in Central Florida published in 1988 states: “[Father Swembergh] held Mass at Doyle’s Livery Stable, Sanford.” The “livery” reference was repeated in All Souls History at a Glance in 1989: “At one time Catholics in the Sanford area met at Doyle’s Livery or Doyle’s Hall.” NOTE: Should be Doyle’s Hall. See Sources 5.9 and Source 2.6. 4. Doyle’s Hall is correct according the Daily Sanford Journal published July 5, 1887 and included in the cornerstone of the church. Under the heading “CHURCHES” is the following: “CATHOLIC SERVICES at Doyle’s Hall on the 1st and 3d Sundays of every month. Mass at 10 a.m. Evening service at 3 o’clock. Rev. F. P. Swembergh, Pastor.”  5. The 1884 and 1887 Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps show the Everglade Hotel (2nd floor) and M. J. Doyle & Co. (1st floor), at the corner of First and Magnolia—listed as the location of Doyle’s Hall in the 1939 WPA Church Survey (Source 21.1) 6. The 1887 Orange County Gazetteer entry for “Doyle” identifies the businesses shown on the Sanborn maps: Doyle M. J. & Co. (M. J. Doyle), clothing, shoes, gents’ furnishing goods, groceries, hay and grain, ss First, 7th, 8th and 9th w of Palmetto ave. Translating the abbreviations the location reads: south side of First street, 7th, 8th and 9th business west of Palmetto Avenue. 7. Photograph (below right) of M. J. Doyle’s building on First Street – Palmetto to left; Magnolia to right. Is the location of “Doyle’s Hall,” from the time it was constructed (between 1880 and 1884) and the former structure (above left) could have acted as such before it was replaced by the new structure.  *NOTE: The photograph (above left) from Images of America: Sanford, p. 14, states it is a structure in Mellonville, however, the out buildings match exactly the buildings shown in the 1884 Sanborn Fire Insurance Map of First Avenue and Magnolia in Sanford. The angle from which the photograph is taken suggests it was part of a series of photos taken from the top floor of the Sanford House Hotel (across the street from the Everglade Hotel) by well know photographer Benjamin Upton circa 1882, as there were no taller structures in Mellonville at the time. A biographical sketch of M. J. Doyle published in The South Florida Argus on May 7, 1885 (including block cut image of Doyle – left) details the likely history of this structure and the one shown below right. The simple structure above left appears to be the “old Lake Monroe House” that existed in 1880 when Doyle rented it after a storm destroyed his Mellonville store.	5. Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps 1884, Sanborn Map and Publishing Co., Ltd., NY, online, University of Florida, http://ufdc.ufl.edu Source 97.1 Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps 1887, Sanborn Map and Publishing Co., Ltd., NY, online, University of Florida, http://ufdc.ufl.edu Source 97.2 6. Orange County Gazetteer and Business Directory Volume 1, 1887, John R. 			He tore down the “old Lake Monroe House” and built the store shown below in the same location before the publication of the 1884 Sanborn Map: “They [Brantley and Doyle] continued to do business [in Mellonville] with variable success until the fall of 1880, when the equinoxial storm blew the store down, leaving Mr. Doyle, who had bought out his partner, without any house in which to shelter his goods. Necessity forced him to seek a shelter for them in Sanford. . . .Mr. Doyle’s intention was to build on the lot, but not having the means at the time to build such a house as he wanted, one in keeping with the location, that would be a credit to the town and an honor to the builder, he concluded to rent the old Lake Monroe House and put his goods in there, temporarily. He finally bought the Lake Monroe House, had it torn down and the present building known as the Everglade Hotel, Doyle’s stores and Doyle’s Hall erected on the site of it.”  8. [Father Swembergh] held Catholic Mass every first and third Sunday at Doyle’s Hall, near the wharf in Sanford. The biographical sketch published May 7, 1885 in The South Florida Argus, could shed some light on this reference. It states that he came to Sanford in 1880, rented the “old Lake Monroe House” to set up his business; tore it down to construct his new building which is identified by 1884 on the Sanborn Maps of Sanford. The article also states “besides which he has a large warehouse at the wharf which he uses for storage of hay, grain and heavy groceries.” It is certainly possible that, while the Everglade Hotel and Doyle’s stores were under construction, they could have met in Doyle’s warehouse, but no other mention of this has been found, and the location of his building at First and Magnolia is within two blocks of what would have been the wharf.  9. 9	1885 or 1886 to 1887 circa Oct 26	Father Felix Prosper Swembergh Bishop Moore	 1. Rev. Felix Prosper Swembergh was born June 2, 1845 in Cassel, France where his early life was spent among the Flemish people ... [H]e graduated [from Colonial Seminary of the Holy Cross in Paris] in August 1865. He next moved to America to the Vicariate apostolic of Kansas.... On June 29, 1868, [he] was ordained a Priest. In July 1869, he was transferred to Solomon City to provide service to ... remote settlements of the Kansas frontier west of Abilene.... Historical accounts credit him as being the first minister of any denomination to preach the gospel to the Native Americans of that region.... When Father Felix Swembergh relocated to Orange County in 1885, he became Orlando's first resident priest.... Bishop Moore asked him to immediately begin building [a church] in Orlando [and] start work on a church in Sanford.... In the meantime, he held Catholic Mass every first and third Sunday at Doyle's Hall, near the wharf in Sanford ... [He endorsed] a Roman Catholic colony known as St. Joseph's Colony west of Sanford.... In May 1887, yellow fever broke out in Tampa ... [and] on October 23rd, Bishop Moore ... sent Father Swembergh [to Tampa] to care for [Rev. Peterman] but [Rev. Peterman] passed away on Oct. 27th.... Father Swembergh fell victim to the dreaded disease.... Father Clavreul ... arrived in Tampa on Oct. 31st and ... [and] that night at nine thirty, Father Felix Swembergh passed away. The corner stone of the Catholic Church to be erected at Oak Avenue and Ninth Street, Sanford, was laid with impressive and appropriate ceremonies last Monday. Rev. Felix P. Swenberg [sic] performed the beautiful services prescribed by the ritual of the Roman Catholic Church, and deposited the white marble slab in its bed of cement. The slab bears the inscription 'L. H. S.' 4. Inside the stone was a Sanford Daily Journal with a Coca Cola advertisement. It was dated March 17, 1887. Bishop J. J. Moore presided at the laying. Mayor H. L. Lilienthal of Sanford was present, also acting Governor E. A. Perry. 5. Rev. F. P. Swemberg [sic], dressed in a beautiful cape, and assisted by two altar boys, read the prayers prescribed by the Roman ritual.... He then delivered a short address.... This new building would be another representative of that great and ancient institution which for eighteen centuries had done battle for God, and worked for the salvation of souls.... It was not a mere meeting house where people would congregate to sing the praises of God ... it would be the dwelling, the tabernacle of God; for a Catholic church was built to meet the practical consequence of the belief of the real presence of Christ in the sacrament. 34	1901 to 1913	Bishop William John Kenny	 1. Bishop Kenny was ordained a Priest by Bishop Moore in the old Cathedral of St. Augustine, Jan. 15, 1879, and 23 years later succeeded Bishop Moore as Bishop of St. Augustine. Early parochial assignments of Father Kenny were in Jacksonville, at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and in Palatka. Bishop Kenney was the First Bishop of St. Augustine to be consecrated in the Cathedral here, when on May 18, 1902, James Cardinal Gibbons and two other prelates elevated Bishop Kenny to the Episcopacy. Bishop Kenny died Oct. 23, 1913. 2. Bishop William J. Kenny was in charge in Florida for 11 years, from 1902 to 1913. He was the first American born Bishop of St. Augustine. He was born in Delhi, N.Y., on Oct. 14, 1853, and grew up in Scranton, Pa. As a priest, Bishop Kenny later served as Bishop Moore's vicar general. During his administration as Bishop of St. Augustine, early Church records were recovered from Havana. He died suddenly on a visit to Baltimore on Oct. 23, 1913. Bishop Kenny High School in Jacksonville was named in his memory.	1. 3 5	1905	Diocesan Report	A report written in 1885 by St. Augustine's second Bishop, the Most Reverend John Moore, reveals that there were 12,000 Catholics in the Diocese at that time. There were only ten parishes ... to care for the 12,000 Catholics and ... eleven Priests.... Twenty years later ... the Catholic population had increased ... to nearly 40,000, while eight new parishes had been established: Loretto, Daytona Beach, DeLand, Sanford, Orlando, Ocala, Gainesville, and Fort Pierce.... 36E	1910 Oct 18	Storms damaged Church	 In Seeing Florida With a Priest, p. 62, Father Bresnahan writes: “On my arrival there I found a church wrecked by a recent storm but no rectory.” The Herald article indicates the storm caused no serious damage, perhaps because Sanford escaped the destruction and deaths suffered by the residents of the west and east coastal towns. Some reports indicate there were actually two storms that eventually joined together. Description of the damage from the October storms in Jupiter, Florida on the NOAA website mentions a “second storm,” SEE Source 5.8. By the time the storm reached central Florida around October 18-19, it was diminished greatly. The reported 101 deaths and destruction was primarily in Cuba and the both coasts of Florida.	1. “The Storm at Sanford,” The Sanford Herald, Oct. 21, 1910, p. 1. After only a year’s study at the Apostolic Mission House at the Catholic University [he was] assigned to give missions to non-Catholics in Florida. SEE ALSO photograph with Bishop Kenny Source 49.17 2a and 2b. Father Bresnahan was born at Castletow, Conyers, Limerick, on February 26, 1879. After a national school education and a course of five years at Mungret College, Limerick, he entered the American College, Rome, and after three years spent there and one year at St. Mary’s Seminary, Baltimore, was ordained in St. Augustine by Bishop Kenny on June 5, 1903. He was sent to the Apostolic Mission House at Washington, D.C., to prepare for work among non-Catholics. Among the outlying missions he erected a church at Madison. At the close of 1910, Bishop Kenny called Father Bresnahan in from the field to become first pastor of All Souls in Sanford. During his five years on the road, Father Bresnahan gave 85 missions... In 1917, he was ordered to fill a vacancy in South Jacksonville... [H]e was forced to resign in 1924 because of ill health. After a six-month leave of absence, Bishop Patrick Barry sent Father Bresnahan to Tillman, with Rockledge as a mission, and Malabar and Melbourne as stations.... Father Bresnahan moved into a room over a garage and began building St. Joseph's Parish. 3a. April 1, 1911: Father Patrick J. 37C	circa 1911 March	Rectory new altar new organ Rev. P. J. Bresnahan Sisters school parish census	 Among the many changes and improvements that have been made in Sanford during the past six months, by no means the least was raising of the district to the dignity of a Catholic parish so great was the influx of Catholics to Sanford and neighborhood that a resident priest was found to be absolutely necessary so that the spiritual needs of these Catholics may be attended to accordingly towards the end of October 1910 the Rev. P. J. Bresnahan formerly diocesan missionary of this diocese of St. Augustine was sent hither by his bishop to organize a new parish a Catholic census showed almost 50 Catholic families in the town, and a catechism class with an enrollment of about 40 children. The church is constantly increasing its membership and is now probably the strongest church in the city. The materials improvements made have attracted the attention of every citizen. For within four months after his arrival Father Bresnahan found himself in a beautiful parochial residence erected by his enthusiastic congregation at a cost of not less than $2500. A beautiful new altar has been installed also an organ. And now there is talk of the sisters coming to establish a catholic school in the other side of the beautiful building block owned by the church in Sanford.	"Parochial Residence of Father Bresnahan. 		Cross Holy Week	Lectures at Catholic Church. Father Bresnahan [sic] is giving a course of lectures this week at the Catholic Church that are interesting and instructive. He tells you what Catholics believe about Jesus Christ, and what Catholics think of the Bible, why they confess to a priest, why they pray to the Saints, why they pray for the dead, what they believe about Holy Communion, why they pray before images, and so forth. The object of these lectures is not a pecuniary one as all seats are free and you may leave your pocket-book at home, nor is this an attempt to proselytize but rather an appeal to your reason, better sense and fair judgement as American citizens in behalf of the greatest and oldest church in Christendom, a church that gave the Bible to the world and Christianity to every country where it is found today, a church that was in existence 1500 years before the other churches around you were even thought of....

38C	1911 Dec 25	Christmas Services Children's choir Missa Cantata	By a special privilege every priest is allowed to offer three Masses on Christmas day in honor of the threefold birth of Christ: his birth in eternity from the bosom of his father; His birth in time from the womb of his mother and his subsequent births innumerable in regenerated and converted souls. Father Bresnahan will take advantage of this great privilege so there will be mass at 6, 8 and 10 A. M. Christmas. The children will sing at the 8 o'clock mass and the last mass at 10 will be a missa cantata [sic] with special Christmas music. Confessions will be heard Sunday afternoon and night and before the early masses.	"Christmas at the Catholic Church," The Sanford Herald , Dec. 22, 1911, p. 3, col. 2. Source 116.1.6

4 O F	1912 Jun 21	Fr. Bresnahan Ireland trip Reception School	On Friday evening, June 21, [1912] a very beautiful entertainment was given, under direction of the Sisters of Mercy, by the children of St. Anne's school to Rev. Father Bresnahan in the new school hall which was magnificently decorated. Father Bresnahan is leaving Sanford for a *time for a visit to his parents across old ocean. The large attendance proves how Father Bresnahan is everywhere esteemed in Sanford.... The address spoken so well by William Shepherd is worthy of mention... The presentation of a magnificent dress suit case by student Peter Schaal and from the children, and an alligator purse with $100 from his devoted congregation closed the entertainment. *NOTE: The duration of Fr. Bresnahan's absence was not found, however, a notice in the Sanford Herald on June 7, 1912, may indicate when he returned. It should be also noted that it appears the school year was from end of September to end of May so this could just be the normal summer schedule: "Sunday Mass at the Catholic church will be at 9 a.m. instead of 10 a.m. until the first Sunday of October. Two masses as usual on the first Sunday of the month – the first at 7 a.m. and the second at 9 a.m. "	"Reception for Father Bresnahan," The Sanford Herald , June 25, 1912, p. 6, col. 3. 4 O I	1912 Jul 30	Associated Charities Sisters of Mercy	The Associated Charities... was probably instrumental in stemming the tide and changing the current of events in the life of an almost mentally defective and helpless girl last week. An orphan ... was found recently really sick in the depot... It was found out in some way that the girl's mother had been a member of the Catholic church, and she was taken to the Sisters of Mercy, who willingly received her. One of the Sisters intended leaving Tuesday for New York City, and it was decided to send their charge with her if the money for the trip and suitable clothing could be procured for her. The case was laid before a warm hearted generous lady, who is a Catholic, and she subscribed half of the money for the trip and fitted her out with clothing, with the assistance of the Associated Charities, which also furnished the remainder of the money needed for the trip. The girl left Tuesday with the Sister of Mercy, who will either place her in a parochial school or convent in New York... 4 O M	1912 Dec	Christmas Entertainment Sisters of Mercy	A large and interested attendance of parents, friends and visitors enjoyed the very pretty and well rendered Christmas entertainment of the children of the Sanford Catholic school by the Sisters of Mercy which was given Monday evening in their splendid new school building on Oak avenue. The room and stage was beautifully decorated with bright Christmas bells and green vines. The appropriate Christmas selections and program was splendidly given, each one sustaining their parts more creditably, demonstrating the great care and attention bestowed upon them by the kind sisters in charge of the school, as well as the individual talents of the pupils....Mother Stanislaus presided at the piano... 49	1916	Phony Priests Sidney J. Catts	Talk about 'hot politics' and campaigns, and I can recall it was only natural I would hear a lot about the Sidney J. Catts campaign for governor that summer. When Catts was elected June 15 over W. V. Knott by only 260 votes—statewide—a recount was demanded. Editor Holly, incensed over attacks on his many Catholic friends by the pro-Catts group, vigorously denied a rumor he said had been spread around Oviedo-Geneva the day before election; that Knott was a Catholic! It should be explained here that supporters of Mr. Catts (an ardent anti-Catholic) employed men who were dressed as priests. They were largely assigned to known "hot-beds" of anti-Catholicism; there to spread among low income people with an 'appeal' from the Pope that they vote for Mr. Knott. Two such imposters were in Seminole County, especially in the Oviedo-Geneva communities, and their activities incensed Mr. Holly to the boiling point. He literally knocked on every door in those places, refuting the 'priesthood' of the pair; playing both them and Catts for such atrocious falsehoods.	"Sidney J. 59	1926 Jun 14	Sunday School Parish Hall Spaghetti supper	CHURCHES. ALL SOULS CATHOLIC CHURCH. The regular Sunday school classes are discontinued until the beginning of the Fall school term. One of the interest events of the week was the spaghetti-chicken supper, which was served on Wednesday evening at the Parish Hall under the guidance of Mrs. Frank Meisch and Mrs. Frank Peters. The national dish of Italy was in delicious evidence both of flavor and aroma and was heartily enjoyed by all. Mrs. Peters was responsible in the kitchen. There was a little dancing after the dinner, but it was abandoned early for cooler forms of recreation. Although the tickets were only 50 cents, a substantial sum was realized.	This Week in Sanford, Chamber of Commerce News, Real Estate Activities published in the interest of Seminole County, Florida, June 14, 1926, p. 9. http://cfmemory.org Source 51.1

6 6	1931 Jan 11	Holy Name Convention Rev. J. J. McInerney Rev. Michael	“Florida Holy Name Men in Convention.” Orlando was host January 11 to the annual convention of the Holy Name Societies of Florida, one of the largest gatherings of the Catholic laity ever held in the state; it was attended by clergy and laymen from every section of Florida... The plans for the convention were directed by Rev. J. J. Kellaghan, spiritual director of the Holy Name Society of St. James Church, of which Rev. Michael Fox is pastor... The assistants at the throne were Rev. J. J. McInerney, of Sanford and Rev. M. Farley of Miami... The success of the convention was in large measure attributed to the work done by Father Kellaghan...	The Bulletin of the Catholic Laymen’s Assn. of Georgia , Feb. 1, 1931, p. 8, online, accessed 2/2/14, http://scr.stp archive.com Source 71.1 or 94.1

Sanford’s then oldest wooden church, All Souls Catholic, at Ninth and Oak, burned to the ground in a spectacular fire around midnight *January 24 (1932). All church records were saved by the Rev. J. J. McInerney.... Included was the 1887 cornerstone and baptismal, marriage, and birth notices. Inside the stone was a Sanford Daily Journal that carried a Coca Cola advertisement. It was dated March 17, 1887. Bishop J. J. Moore presided at the laying. Mayor H. L. Lilienthal of Sanford was present... NOTE: Only source stating fire began Jan. 24, 1932.  2. All Souls Catholic church, dedicated in 1887, one of the oldest church buildings in central Florida, was destroyed by fire early today in a blaze originating from an unknown source. The fire started at 4:30 a.m., and an hour later the church was in ruins, having burned to the ground. Everything in it, including, a valuable organ, was destroyed... The rectory building next door was slightly damaged while the parish house* on the other side lost the roof. A high wind carried the flames toward the parish house and for a time, it, too, was threatened. Pending construction of a new church, services will be held in the parish house. The church was built of heavy timbers hewn by hand. *NOTE: rectory seriously damaged; parish house slightly damaged. SEE photos this entry. 3. Sanford’s oldest church structure, All Souls Roman Catholic Church, caught fire from an unknown source early this morning and burned to the ground ... the rectory, was partly destroyed... Within 10 minutes after an alarm had been turned in at 4:40 o’clock, hundreds of persons ... were at the scene, several volunteering assistance in removing furniture from the rectory and parish house. Fire Chief Mac Cleveland stated that when he and his men arrived ... the building was entirely ablaze, and that after pouring water on it for a few minutes, it became necessary to direct water on the rectory and parish house, adjoining the church on either side.	1. Sanford as I Knew It 1912-1935, Peter Schaal, 1970, pp. 89, 90. 		1969 Jun 2 Requiem Mass 1969 Jun 6 Burial All Souls Cemetery 1969 Jun 6	6. Official. Diocese of St. Augustine. The Chancery has announced the following appointments: The Reverend Father Richard Lyons granted a leave of absence for reasons of health 7. A concelebrated requiem Mass was offered June 6 for Father Richard Lyons, 67, who died June 2 at Mercy Medical Center, Orlando ... Father William Keane, pastor of All Souls, preached the Mass in All Souls Church in which parish Father Lyons had been a pastor for 14 years ... Father Lyons was born in Chicago and attended the Divine Word Missionary Seminary, Techny, Ill. He was ordained ... May 29, 1926 ... Father Lyons was incardinated as a diocesan priest for the Diocese of St. Augustine in 1950 ... He was assigned to All Souls as pastor in 1952 where he remained until his retirement Dec. 31, 1965. In 1953 he was responsible for the building of All Souls School. 8. All Souls Church was filled to overflowing June 6 for the funeral Mass for Father Richard Lyons ... Father William Keane spoke of the late priest's compassion for shut-ins and for youth... Another concern of Father Lyons, he said, was the reverent remembrance of departed relatives and friends. He renovated and improved the parish cemetery. [W]hen Father Lyons left in January 1966, The Herald said: "Sanford has lost an outstanding religious leader and a good citizen... [H]e also devoted part of his time to holding Masses at Sanford Naval Air Station. He was the guiding light behind the establishment of All Souls Parochial School... His sense of humor was famous throughout the county. He not only will be missed by those of the Catholic faith, he will be missed by all of us who knew him."	2, 1969. 210	1968 Jun 18 to 1974	William D. Borders Bishop Of Orlando Archbishop Of Baltimore	 The first Bishop of Orlando was William D. Borders, a monsignor in Louisiana... Bishop Borders was born Oct. 9, 1913 in Washington, Indiana, attended Notre Dame University, and was ordained a priest at New Orleans' St. Louis Cathedral in 1940. In 1943 he enlisted in the U.S. Army Chaplain Corps and served with the 91 st Infantry Division in Africa and Italy. He earned a Bronze Star for Valor. On May 2, 1968 Pope Paul VI named him Bishop of Orlando and he was enthroned at St. Charles Cathedral June 18, 1968. Under his guidance, diocesan and parish councils, boards of education and similar commissions were established... Accomplishments: 1971-special ministry for farmworkers began in Apopka. 1968-Diocese of Orlando CCW established. 1969-Charismatic Movement organized in Diocese of Orlando. 1970-Cursillo movement began in Winter Park. Dec. 16, 1972-extraordinary Ministers of the Eucharist commissioned. 1971-Catholic committee on Scouting organized. Bishop Borders established Diocesan Office of Education. On April 2, 1974, Bishop Borders was appointed Archbishop of Baltimore. He retired in 1989 and continued to serve as the retired Archbishop of Baltimore until his death in 2010.	1. http://www.orlandodiocese.org/about-the-diocese/history/bishop-william-borders 2. 2 1 2	1968 Aug 23	Father Keane Parish Survey Holy Name Society Men's Club Decisions not based on race Catholics in Civic Arena	I agree that "one way to find out the needs and desires people have is to ask them." I just did. We recently conducted a survey concerning the attitudes of parishioners.... We even included a section for your benefit titled "Gripes." [W]e had numerous meetings of the Holy Name Society and the Men's Club to which all men of the parish were invited. [W]e had numerous meetings of our Catholic Women's Club; we had the DCCW spring deanery meeting here in March... Our survey showed that 75 per cent of our parishioners like the Liturgy as it is ... 70 per cent prefer to kneel while receiving Communion; only 4 per cent want modern hymns and music in Church. As for leadership in social issues, Catholics in Sanford have no desire to instigate riots for open housing, for integrated schools, or for peace in Vietnam nor have they issued statements challenging the teaching of the Church or Pope. All our parishioners are treated as children of God.... Our teachers are hired on the basis of their ability and qualifications.... Officers of our organizations are chosen by fellow members on the basis of their dedication and ability.... Finally you ask, "Where are Catholics in the civic arena?" Our Mayor is a Catholic. The chairman of our County Commission is Catholic. Our local State Attorney is Catholic. One of our local State senators is Catholic, yet in Sanford less than 5 per cent of the population is Catholic...	"Letters. Get it off your mind; put it on paper. 2 2 3	1970 Jun 6 to 1984 Aug 10	Father William E. Ennis 12th Pastor of All Souls	 1. Father William Ennis: 1970-1984. 2. Father Ennis served as assistant pastor to Father William J. Mullally in DeLand before coming to All Souls. 3. Eight pastors will assume new pastoral assignments June 6: Father William E. Ennis, a native of Ireland ordained in St. Patrick's, Carlow, has been assistant at St. Charles Cathedral, Orlando and a teacher at Bishop Moore High School. He will be pastor of All Souls parish in Sanford, taking charge on his sixth anniversary of ordination. 4. In one of three separate elections held by priests of the Diocese of Orlando during the past weeks, two new deans were elected: Father William Ennis, pastor for the past five years of All Souls Parish in Sanford, was elected dean of the Central Deanery. He succeeds Msgr. Irvin Nugent, Cathedral pastor, Orlando, who has been Central dean since Dec. 10, 1971. 5. After 13 years as pastor of All Souls, Sanford, Father Ennis has been appointed the pastor of St. Peter in DeLand, where he will report on Aug. 10 to take charge. He was ordained priest, June 6, 1964, in Carlow, Ireland. Father Ennis, 42, is a native of Derry City, Northern Ireland ... he was appointed Sanford pastor on June 6, 1970. 6. Some 600 parishioners ... said their farewells to outgoing pastor, Father William Ennis, at a reception, Aug. 7. Father Ennis served [All Souls parish] for the past 13 years. Highlighting the event were presentations of a bronze plaque dedicating the new multi-purpose building in his name and a framed pastel drawing of Father Ennis' German Shepherd dog, Creggan... He was chaplain of the Sanford Police Dept., served on the Sanford Housing Authority and was instrumental in the development of the Christian Sharing Center.   7. Father William Ennis, 48, has been pastor of St. Peter Parish in DeLand since 1983. Born in North Ireland, Father Ennis also served as pastor of All Souls Parish in Sanford, and as assistant pastor at Bishop Moore High School in Orlando, St. Charles Cathedral in Orlando, St. Paul's in Daytona Beach, Bishop Kenny High School in Jacksonville, and Church of the Assumption in Jacksonville. One of Father Ennis's major accomplishments is the building of San Jose Mission in Barberville, near DeLand. The mission serves the Hispanic farmworker community in the area. 8. [I]n the closing days of World War II ... she heard her fiance, Eugene G. Gilmartin, would be sailing home ... and their wedding was finally approaching. An engine room explosion ... [left] the young sailor sightless, but it didn't change their plans.... Florence worked as a telephone operator with Southern Bell for 26 years until her retirement in April 1965, Gene working when he could ... mostly caring for the eight children.... [T]hey came to Sanford 22 years ago (in 1955) to "live more cheaply." Tragedy struck twice more in their lives. In 1966, their 16 year old Paul was on his way to an honor Boy Scout camp when a truck driven by an unlicensed driver crossed the road and hit head on the pick up truck Paul was riding in. Paul was killed and his brother Brian suffered a broken back and internal injuries.... In 1970, their youngest son Richard, not quite five years old drowned in Lake Golden while at a picnic. Gene suffered a heart attack on the spot and has had to take things easy ever since. Florence is the coordinator of All Souls Catholic Church Sharing Center... [She] brought the idea for the sharing center to Father Ennis six years ago.... [She is] also parish coordinator for All Souls' Pro-Life organization, ... a volunteer for Catholic Charities, ... in charge of Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets for the needy program and distributes food and items of necessity monthly to needy families in the area.... 2 8 7	1986 Sep	Winkie LeFils NCCW	Winkie LeFils has had numerous challenges in her life—from volunteer work at All Souls Parish in Sanford to the presidency of the National Council of Catholic Women... After serving on the Council of Catholic Women “at all levels,”... [she] served as NCCW president in 1980 and 1981... In addition to serving on the NCCW, Winkie has done work for the Volusia County Farm Bureau and All Souls rectory. She has served her parish as lector and the Diocese of Orlando as a member of the Board of Directors of Florida Manor and other diocesan advisory positions including groups concerned with women in the Church and society. She has also served on the Rural Life committee. She calls her work with the Christian Migrant Association a “heart-warming experience.” Her most recent job is head the committee for the 75th anniversary of All Souls Parish on Nov. 1... Blankets, sheets, infant clothing, toasters, and furniture are also on hand for emergencies... Anyone can shop at the store which had its official opening Jan. 18. But to receive food or free goods, a customer has to have a letter from his minister. Basically, said All Souls pastor Father Edmund Czarnecki, the parish wanted to open the thrift store to replace the Sanford Christian Sharing Center, which closed recently... The store is located at 2589 S. Sanford Ave., next to the Driver’s License Bureau... All goods at the store have been donated by parishioners at All Souls Parish. 303A	1988 May	Parish History	1-2. All Souls history in “ The Catholic Presence in Central Florida ,” seems to rely on Father Michael V. Gannon’s work from 1965, which was shared with All Souls CCW in July 1984 by archivist Jane Quinn. (Shared in 1994 with curator at Sanford Museum – copy in their files.) An error regarding the date the first church burned down in Gannon’s work was repeated in the 1988 parish history. The fire was January 25, 1932 (See entry #68); Gannon’s history states September 1931. In addition, the 1887 newspaper and 1939 WPA church survey state before the church was constructed, services were held in “Doyle’s Hall” (See entry #7); 1988 history states “Doyle’s Livery Stable.”		1. The Catholic Presence in Central Florida , Jane Quinn, ed., 1988, pp. 48-49. 3 1 1	1989 Jul	Stained Glass Windows 2nd Church	[P]ieces of the prophets are popping out all over at Sanford’s All Souls Catholic Church. Twelve colored-glass windows that depict Jesus’ apostles are coming apart... The windows were installed in the mid-1970s, church records show. Made of faceted glass sunk into an epoxy mix that resembles concrete, the 12 windows cost about $11,700 and were donated by church families... Burns has learned the epoxy that holds the glass together should have been mixed about 20 percent thicker... The windows were built by Nobis Studios of Orlando, now out of business... 3 5 4	After 1993 Jul	Restoration of the Rectory	 1. All Souls Rectory, formerly known as Chase Mansion was built in 1899.... When Reverend Richard W. Trout became the Pastor of All Souls in 1993, he felt that the Rectory needed to be restored so the parish could save money on the rental of the priests' apartment. Fr. Trout also wanted a place that the Parish could feel at home and be used for ministry. [T]hey tried to conserve as much as they could. Plumbing was fixed, all new electric installed, a completely new kitchen designed, and a breakfast nook and a family room added. The yard was landscaped and new sprinklers were installed.	1. 8 th Annual Holiday Tour of Homes, Sanford Historic Trust, 1996, Sanford, Fla., pp. 23, 27. Sources 31.1.3 and 36.4 2. 3 5 6	1993 Oct 1994 Apr	Spanish Mass Deacon Diego Vinasco Seminarian Ricardo Santos Seminarian Benito Luna	Father Richard Trout, pastor of All Souls Church in Sanford, said two decades after the parish began offering Mass in the Spanish language, All Souls continues to reach out to the Hispanic community in its native tongue. Since early October 1993, each 9 a.m. Sunday Mass has been in Spanish.... Father Trout ... [who] was unsure how many Hispanic Catholics were in the community when he was assigned to the church in July, estimates that approximately 100 families now regularly attend the special Mass.... The Mass has served as a launching point for organizing the community, spawning a Spanish-language church newsletter, fledgling committees designed to address the social needs of the Hispanic community and a weekly bilingual Rosary. Deacon Diego Vinasco and seminarian Ricardo Santos, both from Colombia, and seminarian Benito Luna of Peru have been instrumental in getting the new ministry off the ground. All are due for re-assignment by the bishop in May. Deacon Vinasco hosts a one hour Sunday radio show on WTRR-AM 1400, and a five minute morning reflection on Radio Klarida AM 1140. 3 6 7	1995 Feb	All Souls Parish Church History	 Father Trout is the seventh pastor in 11 years at All Souls Church.... “So many of the celery farmers were Catholic,” said Father Trout. “Much of the Sanford area was and remains African American, and our parish ministries reflect that... Some of the parish families go back to those early years, with ancestors having chartered the Catholic community of All Souls... “The early church was built by the parishioners,” he said. “Women would buy bricks on Saturdays and cart them to the proposed church site. The men of the area would lay bricks on Sundays until the church was built.” The pastor said some families from surrounding towns like Osteen, Lake Mary, and Heathrow have made significant contributions to the growth of the church.	“Parish Spotlight. 390	1997 Oct	School School History	 According to various historical accounts, the first attempt to establish a school in the area began as far back as 1911 when Father Patrick J. Bresnahan became the first resident priest. Although the school closed after only one year due to a lack of funds, efforts were renewed 40 years later when the school reopened Sept. 7, 1954. Classes were held in four wooden buildings located on Oak Avenue. It was staffed by the Sisters of Christian Charity. A ninth grade was added from 1955 to 1962. Enrollment swelled to over 500 students and, in 1960, a permanent school building was dedicated. In the ‘50s and ‘60s, the Sanford Naval Base accounted for up to 75 percent of the student population. When the base closed in 1968, enrollment dropped dramatically. The Sisters of Christian Charity left the school in 1978 and the Sisters of St. Joseph staffed the school through 1983. The school added a kindergarten in 1982 and a prekindergarten in 1985... Since 1988, enrollment has steadily increased. Currently the school features ... a media center, music and art.	“School Spotlight: Academics, faith traditions rank high at All Souls,” Florida Catholic , Julie Greene, Oct. 16, 1997, p. Widowed twice and father of eight children and grandfather to 15, his ordination was the result of hard work and determination... “He’s been here [at All Souls] for about a year and he’s become very active in our community,” Father Trout said. “He’s strongly pro-life and despite his age, he’s very young in his thinking. He’s energetic—a real saintly man.” Dr. Fornace has served as a parish advocate for the elderly and has helped to set the groundwork for a parish based crisis pregnancy center in Sanford. He recently purchased the property for the center at 1002 French Ave. After being renovated the building will be known as the Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center.	“Retired physician ordained as transitional deacon,” Florida Catholic , Julie Greene, Nov. 13, 1997, p. 399	1998 Mar 28 to 2001 Jun 1	Father Albert Fornace Ordination Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center Mass for Seniors Death 2001	 1. Deacon Albert Fornace ordained to the priesthood at 10 a.m. March 28 at All Souls Catholic Church in Sanford. Bishop Norbert M. Dorsey, CP, officiated. A reception followed in the parish center. [Deacon Fornace's] second wife, Roberta died in 1993, at which time he decided to begin his journey toward priesthood. Turned down several times because of his age, Dr. Fornace pursued, at his own expense, his training for the diaconate at the Mater Dei Institute.... Under the tutelage of Father Richard Trout, pastor at All Souls, he continued his preparation and was ordained a transitional deacon last November.... Dr. Fornace is the first man [Bishop Dorsey] ever ordained that had an arrest record. [He] had been arrested and jailed 40 times during sit ins at abortion clinics. [Includes three photos.] 2. Father Albert Fornace, a cardiologist who entered the priesthood at the age of 77, devoted his life to healing... The parochial vicar of All Souls died June 1 [2001]... A funeral Mass was celebrated at the Sanford church June 5. The 81-year-old had been sick during the last year but was able to hear confessions a week before he died... His health prevented him from picketing abortion clinics later in life, but he did not give up on the cause. Father Fornace purchased the land and building to help start the Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center, which celebrated its third anniversary the day he died...	1. 402	1998 Jun	Sanford Pregnancy Crisis Center	 Caption: Father Richard Trout, pastor at All Souls Parish, offers a prayer and blessing over the board members and volunteers who will assist at the Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center which opened June 1. The Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center which was blessed on May 31 and formally opened June 1, is the first center of its kind in Sanford... The center is an ecumenical effort supported by several churches, primarily from the Sanford area, including All Souls Parish. In fact, prior to his ordination to priesthood, Father Al Fornace, a retired physician and longtime pro-life activist, purchased the building for the center and leases it to them for $1 per year. He also serves on the center's board of directors. For the past few months, board members and area volunteers have devoted hours refurbishing the building to create a warm atmosphere in which pregnant women in crisis will feel comfortable.	"Crisis pregnancy center offers abortion alternatives," Florida Catholic , Julie Greene, June 11, 1998, pp. 1, A13. Despite the advice from doctors ... to seriously consider selective, Mrs. Murphy, supported by her husband and daughter, staunchly refused.... Mrs. Murphy has found caring hearts at the Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center which opened last Spring on French Avenue. 2. At 3 a.m. Nov. 13, Toni Murphy's water broke and by 7:40 a.m. the family of three had become a family of seven with the birth of four daughters... The Sanford Crisis Pregnancy Center, members of All Souls Catholic Church, and people from the community have stepped in to assist the family. The CCW at All Souls will host a baby shower for the new mother on Dec. 7. 3. 407	1998 Dec	Father Richard Trout	Father Richard Trout, pastor at All Souls Catholic Church, received an early Christmas gift from students at the parish school... [O]n Dec. 8 during the school Mass for the feast of the Immaculate Conception students presented Father Trout a new ciborium, chalice and paten... Since 1992, All Souls Catholic Church has more than doubled from 700 families to 1,500 families. As a result, the parish has had to add Masses to its regular schedule. Often Masses are conducted simultaneously in the church and social hall. The gifts will make the logistics of that procedure more practical... 4 2 9	2001 Feb	New Land for New Church 1700 families	 The Catholic Diocese of Orlando has a deal to buy 58 acres on State Road 46 for the county's first Catholic high school, which would serve students from across Central Florida. The diocese would also relocate All Souls Catholic Church and its grade school from downtown Sanford to the new site... The news comes a year after community opposition helped derail a Catholic high school proposed near Markham Woods Road... Central Florida's rapid growth—a mixed blessing for the 114-year-old parish, which has members from Winter Springs, Geneva, Casselberry, Deltona, DeBary, and Orange City—is hitting the church and its grade school hard... The All Souls congregation has more than doubled in size since 1993, growing from 650 families in 1993 to more than 1700 families today. But its church only holds 350 people... The church's opening would be followed about five years later by a new grade school ... capable of serving about 700 students.	"Diocese finds new land for school, church – After complaints ended plans to build in Lake Mary, All Souls may relocate in Sanford," Orlando Sentinel , Kevin P. 4 3 0	2001 Mar	Matthew 25 Society	Families in crisis are comforted through anonymous efforts by All Souls School families... When families are in crisis – a parent in the hospital, a child with a long term illness or a spouse out of work – members of the Matthew 25 Society rally round to offer comfort and support anonymously... The parents receive word of a special need through the school office. Then a group of volunteers will put together a basket of treats, gift certificates for a restaurant or a home cooked meal for the recipient. The basket is delivered to the office and discreetly sent to the family in need... 4 3 1	2001 Mar	New Church Site New Diocesan High School	Future plans also call for a new Catholic high school on State Road 46 near Sanford. The Orlando Diocese has purchased 63 acres of former celery plantation land on State Road 46 in Sanford to build a new church for All Souls Parish and serve as future site of its sixth Catholic high school. The relocation of All Souls Church will be the first construction priority on the eight parcels of land valued at $3.3 million and purchased March 2 and March 8. The church, which serves 1,700 families, is currently located in Sanford's historic district in an area that is landlocked and cannot be expanded... The Diocese had purchased property for a new high school on Markham Woods Road but opposition from neighbors about noise and traffic caused the Seminole County Board of Adjustment in March 2000 to reject the proposal... [The] new church will be built with the same Spanish mission style on a grander scale.	"Sanford parish to build new church on old farm," Florida Catholic, Terry O. 4 3 7	2001 Oct	Socks 911 Firefighters All Souls School	The white tube socks drew puzzled looks from some students at Deltona High School... The socks are part of an unusual effort by students at Deltona High School and All Souls Catholic School in Sanford to comfort the hearts – as well as the feet – of fire fighters in New York City. After watching a news report about three weeks ago, a DeBary family came up with the idea of sending socks to firefighters helping clean up the remains of the World Trade Center. The report mentioned that firefighters had to change their socks several times a day as ... socks were getting wet, dirty and torn... Possibly even more important than the socks are the notes of support students pinned to each pair, said Robin Campbell, whose daughters came up with the idea... About 700 pairs have been sold at both schools... Pinned to one pair was a note: "Fireman ... I will pray for you. I'm sorry this happened to you." 462	2005 Jun 5 to Present	Father Benedykt Andrej Jurkiewicz Latin Tridentine Mass	 1. Father Benedict Andrzej Jurkiewicz (Discalced Carmelites). Born: July 20, 1957, Siemianowice, Silesia, Poland. Ordained: June 11, 1983, by Bishop Julian Grobicki in Krakow, Poland. After ordination, Father Jurkiewicz served as catechist in Krakow for a year, then became vice principal and prefect of students at Minor Carmelite Seminary at Wadowice, Poland, until 1990. He became the superior of the Carmelite Monastery in Lodz, Poland, and in 1992 came to the Carmelite Monastery in Munster, Ind. Nearly six months later, he was asked to help minister to the Polish congregations in Florida. Assigned to the Carmelite Community in Flagler County, he began celebrating Polish Masses in the Diocese of Orlando in 1993. In 2002, he was asked to commute weekly to Orlando to celebrate Polish Mass. He thought the assignment would last two or three months, but he made the 100-mile trek each weekend for two years. Finally, in 2004, he moved to Orlando when he was named parochial vicar of St. Joseph Parish, where he remains today. But it didn't end his missionary zeal. In addition to his responsibilities at St. Joseph, Father Jurkiewicz travels to All Souls Parish in Sanford each weekend, where he celebrates the Latin Tridentine Mass. 2. 4 9 4	2008 Nov	Church Profile Father Richard Trout All Souls Cemetery Bereavement Ministry New Church New School	Parish Profile. Sanford—At all Souls Parish in Sanford, the name speaks for itself. "Our name says we're inclusive....," said Father Richard Trout, pastor. The Parish works hard to be inclusive and inviting to those who live in the city of Sanford and beyond. "For some reason, we have always attracted people from outside our boundaries. We have parishioners from Mims, DeLand, even Titusville," Father Trout said.... "You can't miss the new church. It's like a beacon. It was built to draw people into the church....," said Father Trout, pastor for 15 years. Parishioners began celebrating Mass in the new church building in late January. After the arrival of the new altar, the new church building was officially dedicated Aug. 15. Since July of this year, the parish has added 120 new families... Parish members are participating in the diocese's Alive in Christ Capital and Endowment Campaign to pay for the school and other parish priorities, such as paying for the debt acquired from building the new church.... The new school, a $15 million project, will include a social hall, gymnasium, offices and 20 high tech classrooms that will allow for double the number of students. Another important ministry of All Souls is the bereavement ministry. Since All Souls has one of the only two Catholic cemeteries in the Diocese of Orlando, it ministers to many families who have lost loved ones. "Our historic cemetery is more than 100 years old..." 4 9 9	2009 May	Father Richard Trout Funding	The Catholic Foundation wanted All Souls Parish in Sanford to be part of Wave I of the Alive in Christ Capital and Endowment Campaign. For Father Richard W. Trout, pastor, this was a big undertaking, especially since parishioners had just given generously to build a new church... Father Trout told the Florida Catholic ... "We were still in the midst of a large campaign to build a new church... then we had a memorial campaign six months before Alive in Christ... " I presented it very sincerely to the people. We raised $1.6 million." That was on top of the $6 million the parish had raised two years before to build the new church... 504B	2010 Jul	Timkatec	 Sanford man helps school find success amid the rubble. It has been a little more than 6 months since a series of devastating earthquakes rocked Haiti, and although Patrick O'Shea of Sanford was more than 700 miles away the aftershocks continue to rattle his mind. In 2004, O'Shea set up the Friends of Timkatec in America ... a safe haven for children who were living on the streets. Before the first 7.0 earthquake struck on Jan. 12, O'Shea's school housed and educated more than 400 children... Today, the school is up and running again as a shelter taking in more than 500 children... O'Shea is scheduled to fly ... to Haiti and visit the school at the end of the month... [He] will be joined by ... Tommy Stinson, current bass player for the rock bands Guns N' Roses and Soul Asylum... Besides donating money to O'Shea's school, Stinson is spreading the word about Timkatec ...
